FRESHMAN CAMP

Freshman camp in September on Flathead Lake brought new students a week of boating (and volleyball), sessions with student counselors, a first taste of 'college' and a chance to get acquainted.

Hillgate Canyon (US 101) as seen from Mt. Sentinel, is a well traveled valley in September as students arrive by train, bus, planes and car for the school year.

From Freshman Camp to campus and the first busy week—Orientation Week. Freshman take entrance exams, have a medical checkup, require information as to where and what, and are shown the campus and given aid by group leaders (Dick Austin and Marlys Nelson). At the same time upper classmen move in and greeks get ready for formal rush. And, of course the freshmen joined the Spurs and Bearpaws to paint the "M".

Homecoming Weekend brought many alumni to see the game against New Mexico and to visit the campus. Living groups spent Friday night building floats, taking a break to attend the pep rally and the S.O.S. at which Mary Garrison was crowned Homecoming Queen. Saturday floats completed the parade was the largest and finest yet. The game was an upset and the victory bell rang for MSU.

Home football games always include these two events. Above the Kams and Dregs in full regalia and below the traditional line up as the Grizzlies come out on the field.

THE MSU - MSC GAME

Late in the season Grizzlies and supporters left by car and train for Hozeman and the 'big game'. Students on the special train laughed and danced it up. The game, hard fought, ended in disappointment for MSU—losing by one point. After the dance, provided by MSC, the special pulled out with its tired passengers.

Paul and Babe once again lead MSU students to the big social affair fall quarter—"The Foresters Ball". A full house watched the Foresters' Convo. Entertaining were the D.G. Can Can girls, the Jubileer, the jug band, and skits aimed at lodge food, lawyers and cries of 'where's Bertha?' The dance was 'elegant' and ended with the traditional falling of blue snow.

As Christmas drew near the women's living groups caroled for the men and the School of Fine Arts presented the annual Christmas Convocation. These were welcomed breaks, as it is a time for review and projects hurriedly finished before fall finals.

And, as the sun sets on fall quarter and home-for Christmas holidays with another quarter to our credit.

RETIRING . . .

Anne C. Platt

. . . FACULTY

Ross A. Williams

When Miss Platt retired from the University on April 9, the Board of Regents passed this resolution:

"RESOLVED, that upon the occasion of the retirement of Professor Anne C. Platt from the faculty of Montana State University, the State Board of Education, ex-officio Regents of the University of Montana, joins with students, alumnae, faculty, and friends across the state in expressing appreciation for her many years of tireless service to Montana State University, the region, and the nation during her thirty-nine years at the University.

Miss Platt's standards, both personal and academic, have been a constant example to students and have contributed to the high standards maintained in the department. She will be particularly remembered for her close association with individual students, her sympathetic concern over their problems, and her continued interest in students long after they have left the campus.

Miss Platt has made an invaluable contribution to national, regional, and state organizations of nutritional and dietetic specialists where she has served on numerous committees, lectures, and held offices of responsibility and honor.

She was a charter member of the Montana Dietetics Association and has guided the development of this organization from its inception.

Outstanding in her many years of service on University Committees has been her tireless labor on the Commencement Committee, where she could always be counted upon to assume a major responsibility in smoothing the course of any official social function. Both the University, community and the state at large will be much the poorer for her retirement.

When Dean Williams retired from the University on April 9, the Board of Regents passed this resolution:

"RESOLVED, that upon the occasion of the retirement of Dean Ross A. Williams from the faculty of Montana State University, the State Board of Education, ex-officio Regents of the University of Montana, joins with students, alumni, faculty and friends in expressing appreciation of his loyal service to Montana State University. A graduate of the University's School of Forestry in 1921, he pursued a career that included graduate work, assignments with the U.S. Forest Service, teaching, and 14 years as Regional Forester with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service. With this broad background he returned to Montana in 1949 as Dean of the School of Forestry and Director of the Forest Conservation and Experiment Station to devote his professional efforts toward improved education of forestry students as well as to problems associated with the state's forestry industries. His faithful service to the University, and forestry education, combined with his advisory service to Montana relating to forest resources, has won him the respect and appreciation of his associates, and from all quarters of the state.

Ruth Muirhead Berry

When Mrs. Berry retired from the University on April 9, the Board of Regents passed this resolution:

"RESOLVED, that upon the retirement of Mrs. Ruth Muirhead Berry as head resident of Elrod Hall, the State Board of Education recognizes her outstanding service to the University and the University and the hundreds of its men students who have been fortunate enough to have her counseling and care over the ten years she has served on the residence halls staff of Montana State University. Mrs. Berry made a way-of-life of her job, for her every waking moment was devoted to the interests and problems of her charges in Elrod or the problems of youth in general. Her great vitality which she retains even at retirement age gave her energy not only for the job of caring for 150 men students nine months out of the year, but to write three novels, all based upon problems of youth, their values and religion. For ten years, Mrs. Berry has been Elrod Hall, and she has made a permanent place for herself in the history and traditions of the University. Her presence will be greatly missed, as will her annual Autumn quarter report to the Dean of Students office: 'Dean, this year I have the finest bunch of men ever in Elrod.'"

Edmund L. Freeman

When Professor Freeman retired from the University on December 11, the Board of Regents passed this resolution:

"RESOLVED, that upon the occasion of Professor Edmund L. Freeman's retirement from Montana State University, the State Board of Education shares with student, faculty and friends throughout the state its appreciation of his long and courageous service. For more than forty years Professor Freeman, in his unflinching sense of what is owing to the life of literature and the humanities, taught with honesty and humility and love. To this his many students can give deep-felt testimony. For more than forty years he has helped shape, in his wisdom and concern for the dignity of teaching, those patterns of faculty government and rules which have aided immeasurably in the growth and dignity of the University. And for more than forty years he has shared with others the joy and the burden and the success of the labor movement in Montana. Always he has been the good teacher in the world as well as in the University, believing ever in the persistence and pertinence of literature to all that is alive in these most dangerous times. To have experienced Professor Freeman is to have experienced a University. To think that these marks of a man's goodness end with his retirement is impossible; our gratitude to him is but a small measure of our sense of this continuity, of the continuing effect of his courage and wisdom in the affairs of the University."

Olaf J. Bue

Olaf J. Bue, Professor in Journalism, passed away March 7, 1962. Professor Bue served on the journalism faculty at MSU from March 1943 until the time of his death.

ASMUS OFFICERS HEAD

The governing body of the Associated Students of Montana State University is Central Board. Composed of elected representatives from each class, ASMSU officers, and faculty representatives, it supervises and co-ordinates all campus activities through various committees. These committees bring lecture and film series as well as art exhibits to MSU; help finance MSU publicity; supervise traditions such as rallies, SOS (singing on the steps), and painting the "M"; and control the student publications Kaimin, Sentinel, Venture, and "M" Book. Extra-curricular activities and recreation are also sponsored such as bridge lessons, bowling parties, the Popcorn Ball, and the Quartet Contest. All students are encouraged to participate and be active in their student government.

Other activities sponsored by AWS this year include the Big-Little Sister Program, Winter Carnival, the Miss MSU Contest, a Christmas Benefit for Missoula children, and the Lantern Parade.

AWS sponsored Snow Sculpture and Old Man Winter. The theme was "Faerie Tail—book land" and 1st prize went to the Thetas and Delta Sig for their entry "three little pigs and the big bad wolf".

AWS SPONSORED OLD MAN WINTER . . .

The Old Man Winter dance was well attended and Printer Bowler was crowned as Old Man Winter.

The Miss MSU Pageant involves a great deal of work both by its director and the contestants. At left, while Louis Garcia explains to the girls what he wants, Marith McGinnis, Joanna Lester and Patty Jo Shaw rehearse their number "Miss MSU Sisters". Above, all the girls join in the final production of the number.

... MISS MSU ... AND ... LANTERN PARADE

During Graduation Weekend AWS holds the traditional Lantern Parade honoring senior women. The new AWS officers are installed that evening. New officers are Kemmie Kammerzell, President; Helen Dwelle, Vice President; Dee Mast, Secretary; and Sharon Johnson as Treasurer.

In the Spring 1962 elections Dave Hunt, a write-in candidate in the primary elections, gave Ed Whitelaw some competition with some very clever campaigning.

One can always tell when elections are rolling around by the campaign posters in the lodge.

Election polls were in the Lodge, Liberal Arts Building and other buildings on campus. Elections Committee was in charge of all elections.

ASMSU sponsors several dances during the year. At the annual Popcorn Ball free cokes and popcorn are provided.

VARIOUS ACTIVITIES

Parents' Day is sponsored annually by the Public Relations Committee. SEATED, left to right: Mrs. Theodore Jacobs, Joe Reber (Chairman of Campus Visitations Committee), President H. K. Newburn, Theodore Jacobs (Chairman of the local executive board), Mrs. H. K. Newburn. Standing: The Rev. George Ferguson, Mrs. John Skalsky, Denis Adams, Sue Cadwell (Director of Parents Day), Jerry Agen, Carol Skalsky.

The Kaimin, with Frank Walsh as editor, continued to offer a complete coverage of campus, national, and international news. Some of the editorials and letters to the editor were controversial and always informative. The Kaimin serves as a daily contact between the student and campus activities especially.

KAIMIN SERVES AS

The business side of the paper was handled by Marie Stephenson, business manager. She worked hard to please the advertisers and others with whom she was in contact. The Kaimin is published daily, Tuesday through Friday.

As associate editor Sam Donaldson "manned" the copy desk. Not shown is Printer Bowler who was also an associate editor and took over as editor the beginning of Spring quarter.

THE DAILY CONTACT

Jerry Holiday and the other two associate editors also, wrote columns and editorials, were in charge of reporters and copy editors and assisted and advised in staff policy.

TOM FLAHERTY as Sports Editor covered all Grizzly sports and the difficult job of reporting intramural sports which is a big daily job.

JUDY ROLLINS is a busy gal assigning new beats, getting stories, writing copy and editing copy.

Sam Donaldson and Judy check the Associated Press releases for material for the Daily Kaimin world news events section.

VENTURE

Venture Magazine edited by Patty Jo Shaw, is a literary magazine supported by Central Board. It supplied the student body at the end of each quarter with a variety of articles, short stories and poetry provided and written by students and faculty. Writing contests with award were offered, indicating how well organized Patty Jo is in managing and editing this exceptional magazine.

For a full year Editor Jim Weiler worked long and hard to put out a top edition of the Sentinel. The results are embodied in this book, a permanent record of campus happenings and events. Jim attempted to capture the mood of student life, both academic and social, as it has been this year.

THE SENTINEL STAFF

Herk demonstrates the "tool" editors of campus publications are often inclined to use—if available!

Larry Juelfs, Business Manager

Shirley Palmer

Business Manager, Larry Juelfs kept the same position he handled last year. He worked many long and hard hours handling bids, contracts, the all important budget, mailing books and repeatedly asking publications for an assistant. Because of needed time for studies Shirley Palmer filled in for Larry for the conclusion of the year. Between the two of them they cut corners and managed to keep the Editor within his budget.

In charge of student government and fine arts, Bev Hughes, associate editor, attempted to co-ordinate committees and photographers.

... DEADLINE DILEMMA

Nancy Lang, associate editor, worked hard to complete her Faculty, Administration and Class sections. She was assisted by Jean Nichols.

Bob Liffing took over the assignment of sports editor of the '62 Sentinel. Bob has been appointed as Associate Editor in 1963 and he and Jake Nelson will be the only members returning to the Sentinel staff.

Jim Weiler gives Associate Editor Sharon Maddox some suggestions and help for her section . . . this editors job can't be so bad after all.

The annual job of recording the year's school activities in pictures and words takes many hours of planning, and this year because of enlarged enrollment continues growing.

Sharon Maddox was appointed fall quarters as an Associate Editor and assumed the Royalty, Living Groups and Greek sections of the yearbook.

Sentinel Advisor Cyrile Van Duser (pictured above) was always there with a friendly smile, priceless advice and guidance, and much assistance in the area of picture taking and dark room work. Cyrile served a busy year as Hometown News Service director.

Sentinel Photographers under the direction of Dale Graff, head photographer, are indispensable to the staff. As usual photographer troubles plagued harried staff members when either photographer, subjects, or both did not show up at scheduled times.

Freshmen Living Groups

TRIANGLE

Triangle serves as the governing body of the Freshmen Women's Dorms — Brantly, Corbin, and North Corbin. Socially the Triangle arranges the Peppermint Prince Ball fall quarter and other quarterly functions. This year Triangle and Craig Hall joined together for their spring function.

Executive counsel of Triangle includes: Lucky Ludwig, No. Corbin V.P.; Sandy Brown, Brantly V.P.; Sheryl Wright, Triangle Treas.; Stevie Flink, Triangle Sec., and Bonnie Bowler, President.

Miss Joan Hodgson
Head Counselor
Women's Residence Halls

Junior Sponsors who live in the freshman women's dorm to curb homesickness and provide needed advice and shoulders for crying were Kathy Johnson, Alice Curdy, Autumn Holtz, Karen Upshaw, Paty McClain, Barbara Boorman, Carol Nelson, Linda Kammerzell, Helen Dwelle, Joyce Christenson, Sandra Swank.

Necessary equipment for any dorm are the house mothers with their friendly smiles, pertinent advice, and able guidance. Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Moore, and Mrs. Beckwith.

Dor Segar receives aid for a weekend at home.

Bonnie Bowler presents Ed Lamp with a scroll after being crowned Peppermint Prince.

BRANTLY HALL

Brantly Hall this year received a face uplifting with a new entrance facing the clover bowl. Needless to say it prevented some of the congestion at the 1 p.m. rush. Brantly Hall serves as headquarters for the freshmen women's residence.

BRANTLY OFFICERS

Sandy Brown—Vice-President
Pat Scott—AWS Representative
Bev Pfeifle—WRA Representative
Stephanie Swanberg—Social Chairman

CORBIN HALL

Corbin Hall was destined to go its own way this year as many of its members were upper classmen. Next year it will be vacated again to the freshmen as the girls will have a new dorm. Corbin did well in WRA activities again this year.

CORBIN OFFICERS

The punch bowl is always a busy spot at a function. Here Corbin joins the Triangle for the Peppermint Prince Ball.

NORTH CORBIN

OFFICERS

Vice President: Luckie Ludwig

Social Chairman: Nancy Courtwright

WRA Representative: Colleen Adams

AWS Representative: Mary Lou Bieri

Nancy Courtwright, Mary Lou Bieri, Luckie Ludwig, and Colleen Adams.

North Corbin is the youngest of the three dorms which comprise the Triangle. Having the disadvantage of no front door and serving as a thoroughfare between Brantly and Corbin, North Corbin seems to be headquarters for mischief.

These four pictures pretty well sum up the activities in the women's dorms.

CRAIG HALL

Executive Council for Craig Hall determines many of the policies of the dorm.

Sprawling over the area in back of the Lodge, Craig is the home of freshmen men, athletes, and any over flow from Elrod. The men of Craig are active socially, in intramural sports and the rush material for the greeks. The reason for a lack of identification on Craig Hall Officers is that they took their own pictures and failed to provide the sentinel with ID.

President—Ken Osher
 Vice-President—Howard Heaton
 Sec.-Treasurer—Keith Nichols

The highlight of Craig's year was the semi-formal Craig Hall-Triangle sponsored "Rhapsody In Blue" dance and buffet. Music was provided by the Bruce Davis Quintet from Hollywood

These 16 men represent their wings at Craig Hall morning and report its action to members of the dorms.

Room jumping—how many are there? They are still happy as it seems not to packed.

CRAIG HALL

Craig took the honors at their building this year. "Day by Day at MSU" was the theme.

Directing the social life of Craig are the above men. They proved their talents by the success of the spring function.

Second place winners in the annual Quarter Contest—included Craig men Dave Sciles, Tim Aldrich, Don Sullivan and Ron Quilling.

Nice or not papers have to be turned in on time.

A study break with card playing often leads to flunking out!

Directing the athletic in Craig were these men. Craig supported and manned many teams in intramural sports.

THE VISIT

Anton Schull (Alan Naslund) pleads with Claude Zacharussian (George Rintoni)—but to no avail.

"The Visit" by Freidrich Duerrenmatt, was the major production fall quarter under the direction of Dr. Douglas Bankson. Richard James served as designer and Technical Director. For Miss Benton it won her the Masquer Best Actress Award. The plot concerned an incredibly wealthy lady's return to her economically troubled hometown after an absence of many years. The lady promises to aid the community, but on one condition that the life of her lover of long ago, who caused her to be expelled from the town in disgrace, be taken.

The Montana Masquers for the first time presented a Children's Theater for the Missoula grade school children each Saturday morning for seven weeks. The play deals with an evil gnome, Rumpelstiltskin, who needs a king's baby to add to his magic formula to make his wishes come true. He spins straw into gold to get the baby but in the end he is foiled and everyone lives happily ever after. Rumpelstiltskin was directed by Jerry Hopkins and was a great success!

Tough football is rough and packed with thrills when the boys play.

Because of student participation, intramural athletics has become the most popular of campus activities. Containing everything from team sports to individual competition, from physical exercise to skill needed sports, the intramurals give every student the chance to exemplify his talents.

Lining up on the scrimmage line, both teams are prepared for action.

Sandra Pears fills in her many cards before joining the long lines for paying fees and checkout lines.

Decentralized registration was the word for winter registration. Students planned schedules with their advisors prior to Christmas vacation and on registration day the advisors remained in their offices. Lines persisted because of bottle necks, but it was speeded up somewhat.

More lines, time, and money were waiting down the hall in the bookstore. Jim Bartel and Mike Thomson check to make sure they have everything . . . hope they will not have to go through that cashier again.

MISS MONTANA STATE UNIVERSITY

Carol Nelson

Miss Montana, Joanna Lester, crowns the happy Carol Nelson as Patty Jo Shaw, former Miss MSU looks on.

The MSU Pageant under the direction of Louis Garcia, was entertaining, beautiful, and very professional. Long hours of work were required by all the participants. Runner-ups were Anne Erickson, and Kay Edwards, and Miss Congeniality went to Bernadette Burke. The contest itself will be entered into competition at the next Miss America Pageant.

On frosty days, Marsh Hall takes on a new wintry look.

Unusual weather conditions turn the campus grounds into a sheet of ice, which presented advantages and disadvantages. Many students found themselves in a similar situation to Sally Neath (above). Ed Proder, the 'one-man rescue team', seems to have solved the navigation problem. Below U Students donned the blades to take advantage of a rare skating opportunity.

LODGOLOGY

By far the most frequented place on campus is the lodge, particularly during the winter months. The cafeteria is a meeting place, a between class breaks for coffee, bridge, cokes, and study. Upstairs there is T.V., lounge chairs and complaints of the necking going on.

WINTER CARNIVAL

Winter Carnival was sponsored by AWS and was highly successful. Living groups were teamed up to work together on snow sculpture and choosing candidates for Old Man Winter. At the Winter Carnival Dance Gary Fish presents a plaque to Betty Scott (Turner Hall) for second place in snow sculpture and Tim Richman receive the trophy for the Delta Sig-Kappa Alpha Theta sculpture—"Three Pigs and the Big Bad Wolf". Printer Bowler, representing Corbin Hall was crowned Old Man Winter.

Parents Day was well attended this year with more than 400 parents and students attending the Banquet. Pictured above are Mrs. Jacobs, Joe Sieber, Pres. Newburn, Theodore Jacobs, Mrs. Newburn. Standing: the Rev. George Ferguson, Mrs. John Skalsky, Denis Adams, Sue Cadwell (director of Parents Day), Jerry Agen and Carol Skalsky.

Dogpatch Dames went man hunting for the Sadie Hawkins dance which is sponsored annually by the Spur and Bear Paw service groups.

After registration, ski enthusiasts packed up their equipment and headed for Big Mountain and Ski Weekend. Although attendance was down, possibly because of extremely cold weather, the skiers and on lookers had a successful weekend.

Softball . . . winter and with snow shoes? Cold or not the Dendrology classes travel to the woods to study various species of trees. In order to get the foresters into shape for walking with snow shoes, a game of ball is played. That should be a riot!

Earlier in the yearbook you have seen the cartoon character—Herk, and possibly around campus. Creator of 'Herk' is Jane Nelson, art editor, who is a freshman at MSU. Herk has gained popularity this past year on campus—appearing on sweatshirts, posters, ski-jackets, and now as the little man around campus in the Sentinel.

Lil' bear Grizzle in diapers somehow again wound up in Boseman. The picture was received from an unofficial MSC source—of course.

'Oh, for the life of a dog!' Pooch here waits for the boss in comfort in the lodge—rather than outside in the cold.

Pressure of studies, test, and finals keep student busy with the books, doing research in the library, and spending long hours on the studies.

Nancy Wren, a student employee of the library, checks the wheel index for information for a fellow student.

Foreign Language student had an all new lab and equipment to work with this year with the opening of the new addition to the Liberal Arts building. Forestry students study specimens under the microscope.

AND SO ITS UP WITH MONTANA BOYS ...

Basketball is king winter quarter, drawing large crowds of students and city fans.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Intramural sports on campus falls under the jurisdiction of Ed Chinsky and Miss Brown. Over 2,000 students are involved in intramurals at one time or another during the school year. Winter quarter there is men's and women's basketball, volleyball, bowling, skiing, and table tennis.

Sigma Nu Fraternity captured the men's volley ball championship.

MARDI GRAS DANCE

Deanna Mencarelli and Wensel Brown reigned over the annual Mardi Gras held winter quarter. The dance is presented by the Newman Club with concessions being built by the living groups.

Big name entertainment this year included "The Limelighters" who packed the U theatre for two performances. Visiting Lectures committee arranged for many outstanding persons to speak at MSU—Ogden Nash, below, drew such a crowd that many had to be turned away.

Simpkin's Hall, the home of drama for 30 years was hidden farewell during winter quarter, as it is being torn down. Conversion from dormitory into a theatre took place in 1926, and its last occupant was the School of Religion.

The new Health/Science Building burns the mid-night oil as students prepare for winter quarter finals.

DEDICATION . . .

In recognition of her years of service to Sentinel and the University, the staff is privileged to Dedicate this 1962 Sentinel to Cyrile Van Duser

Cyrile Van Duser has served as Sentinel advisor since 1945 and her advice and help is evident in every yearbook since then. Yearbook staffs can attest to the fact that wonderful Cyrile was always there with a friendly smile, priceless advice and guidance and much assistance in the area of picture taking and dark room work. The '62 Sentinel could not have been finished without her assistance. In addition to the Sentinel Cyrile is Hometown News Service director, which is a job in itself and finally, she is the University Photographer. On behalf of past editors, MSU students, and the administration I wish to say Thank You Cyrile . . . you are the greatest.

Upper Classman's Living Groups

Ground was broken for what will be the new upper classwomen's dorm next fall quarters. The sketch of the new dorm is what will replace the confusion south of Turner Hall.

TURNER HALL

Turner Hall—the residence of upper-class non-sorority women students, had a busy year. Besides studies, social affairs, date and coffee hours the Turner girls won the WRA Volleyball and intramural Swimming championships.

The Turner Hall Quartet consisting of Anne Erickson, Judy Fisher, Donna Solberg, and Diana Simone placed second in the Quartet Contest spring quarter.

Turner Hall teamed up with the boys to sculptor Gulliver's Travels for Old Man Winter Weekend.

Elrod Hall men gather around for a little yak'n and sing'n . . . Man, what a bunch they can put togeth'!

ELROD HALL

Elrod Hall, the upper classmen's dorm, received an uplifting this year with a new entrance and the prospect of remodeling this summer. After years of service, Mrs. Berry retired and will be missed by all "her boys". The Elrod Hall residence say "Thank you, Mrs. Berry".

STANDING: Bill Jarrett, Bob Meinrod (Resident Assistants), Bill Dave (Sec.-Treas.), Bill Bivin, Ernie Hartley (Resident Assistants), Karl Finholm (Athletic Chairman)

Elrod maintained their high grade point average, participated in sports, had coffee hours, and of course social functions highlighted the year.

SYNADELPHIC

Synadelphic provides an economical place for girls to live and also develops cooperation between the girls living and working together. They sponsor functions each quarter and participate in university activities. Mrs. Gal has been housemother since 1950.

Herk demonstrates the twist which was the craze in 1955.

Sharon Maddox, associate editor, makes a very beautiful bride and changed her name to Mrs. Gene Bricks.

TWO HEADS ARE BETTER . . .

Craighead apartment, which are university owned, houses many married students on campus. This large colony of students can live in university housing, rent privately or as many do make payments on a trailerhouse

Ever since Adam and Eve set up housekeeping in Eden, girls have been playing house and practicing for the day they can run just fast enough to get caught. By the freshman year in college their timing is getting accurate and before many summers are over, most have succeeded in getting their names changed.

George McKee spends an evening baby sitting and watching T.V.

At least the cupboard isn't bare

Bryan River takes time out from studies to amuse his son.

While Bryan is at school Peaches, his wife, gets caught up on her sewing—as long as Jr. sits still.

The River's display the ultimate in team work. Bryan deep-fries the goodies while his term paper gets a grammar assist.

The story is not one sided, however, for many men who have completed a year, more or less, of college are convinced that team work is the only solution to avoiding cafeteria meals, housekeeping, and lower grades because of misspelled words.

The team work solves anything (except finances) and together they scrimp and save, struggle and strain to get the very thing they gave up—a bachelor's degree.

"And are you going to go to the women club meeting on Tuesday?"

"Just in time to try some of my doughnuts," says Bryan as the neighbors from next door drop in.

"That won't hurt me than today food," says Joann River from Lima since what is there the Joann.

Crime and Punishment, adapted from Fyodor Dostoevsky's book by Raymond Bruce, senior in English, was the first student-written, full-length drama to be presented in more than ten years. Basically it is a story of a man who transgresses moral law for the good of humanity. The play was directed by Douglas Bankson with Richard and Sarah James as technical director and costume designer respectively.

Raymond Bruce, the author, explains the script to Jay Hopkins (Raskolnikov) and Jerry Hopkins (Svedrigailov).

HENRY IV, PART I

William Shakespeare and the MSU Drama Department united to bring the Masquers their biggest success, plus a state-wide tour. Henry IV, Part I, was under the direction of Firman H. Brown, Jr., chairman of the Drama Department. Richard and Sarah James did outstanding jobs with stage settings, lighting and costumes.

The plot involved an uprising against the king, lead by Hotspur, portrayed by Roger DeBourg. Equally outstanding was Jim Baker, in the role of Sir John Falstaff.

Hockey at MSU is an auxiliary sport supported by some funds from ASMSU and the rest from the team members pockets. The team has worked hard to make Hockey a recognized sport at MSU—which is rather difficult because of no rink. It is made up of mainly Canadians who enjoy skating and who wish to demonstrate that hockey could be a big gate drawer as it is doing throughout the state. The team played this year in Great Falls, Butte, and Gonzaga in Spokane and did surprising in view of the fact that they had no place for practice as the ice rink was not in operation this year.

 Advisor Father George Ferguson

The Newman Center for Roman Catholic students on campus this year moved into full swing with some 25 Male members living in the house and much activity at the house for students. The club sponsored the Mardi Gras, the spring songfest competition among living groups, provided Sunday Mass in the Music Auditorium, Discussion groups and religious instruction.

The annual Mardi Gras, presented by this active group, was a Great success ranging from pie throwing (above), barber shops (to the right), any number of concessions, and the crowning of King and Queen.

PATRON'S PAGE

Just as the preparation of Homecoming Activities lends support to the student body of Montana State University, so have the merchants and the professional men who contributed to the financing of the 1962 SENTINEL. The additional interest shown by these patrons deserves our best effort, and our 'thanks to you—our Patrons.'

Spring weather brings the Grizzlies out of hibernation again, as well as the students, for the newest quarter in school — everything is fresh and new, including subjects.

VISITING LECTURERS

Margaret Mead

Senator Barry Goldwater

Spring quarter opened with a visit from Senator Goldwater and Margaret Mead, sponsored by Visiting Lecturer Committee. Miss Mead packed the U. Theatre in the afternoon, and Sen. Goldwater drew over 6,000 that evening in the field house. Trouble was brewing by the visit—some Montana Democrats took up the chant . . . "a political rally".

What—no lines! ! One can assume the 'bottle-necks' were ironed out as registration has never been so quick, smooth, and efficient.

REGISTRATION

Mr. Case seems to have lost his bird, as he showed up on the Oval to look things over early Sunday morning.

'Broadway Melodies', under the direction of Louis Garcia was presented by the KKG Alumnae for support of the Opportunity School. University students made up the cast: LEFT TO RIGHT: Maria Volkell (Annie of 'Oklahoma'), Linda Mar Porter (Bloody Mary—So. Pacific), Joanna Lester and Children (Maria—Sound of Music), Diane Olson (Liza Doolittle—My Fair Lady), Ann Erickson (Maria—Westside Story), Carol Nelson (Ann—The King and I) and Patty Jo Shaw, mistress of ceremonies.

Jerry McGahan's pet eagle, whom he brought to college with him, was shot by mistake in Patty Canyon.

Pete Harkness, Paul Tag, and Chuck Underwood captured second in the National Sky-diving competition held in Boston.

"In spring a young man's fancy turns to . . ." The living groups move outside to soak up the sun, the lodge business hits a low level, classes move out under the trees and the men have a more exciting past-time and notice the girls that never caught the eye before.

Terry Marks and Ed Proctor give up the books and take up the U's favorite past-time. The attractions are Colleen Van Horn and Karen Rush in new spring costumes.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

Spring quarter the U served as host to the state music meet. Thousands of students spent the weekend in competition and receiving ratings. Saturday evening the concert drew a full house and the combined groups thrilled the audience with "A Mighty Fortress".

WORLD'S FAIR OPENS

April 21st the world's fair opened in Seattle, which caused a number of students to quit school with hopes of getting work. For the rest of the students the fair had to wait until June.

MODEL UN

The picture at right (by Roger Zentes) was taken at the Montana Model UN early in the year at MSU. During spring quarter UN members representing Nationalist China, were off to San Diego for the Nationwide Model UN and was immediately challenged by Albania.

New buildings pored and construction forged ahead, while old WWII building were taken down. Old Jumbo Hall came down; Liberal Arts, Health Science, and the Law School open to business; the progress of the Women's dorm pushed ahead with expected completion fall of '63; below—temporary office buildings were sold and removed to be replaced by lawns.

Spring quarter is the time of year when scholarship is given its recognition. New Silent Sentinel members are chosen, Mortar Board members are shaken out of bed at 6:30, Tanan of Spur tapes new spurs, Matrix Table choses outstanding class women and honoraries and professional fraternities initiate new members.

Dr. Turner welcomes new members of Silent Sentinel

Matrix Tables honors Carol Cooper as the outstanding Senior, Betty Leuthold outstanding Junior, Joanne Henson and Bonnie Bowler as sophomore and Freshmen outstanding women respectively.

SPRING SPORTS

When spring rolls around outdoor sports take over the long afternoons. Intermural wise, the clover bowl was busy everyday with softball games. Baseball and Tennis rules varsity athletics. At left Coach Ray Jenkins puts his football team in shape for the inter- varsity game.

INTERSCHOLASTICS

Late in spring quarter MSU paused to sponsor interscholastics for Montana High School students. Huge crowds filled Dornblaser field for track events. Of special interest was Doug Brown, Red Lodge High School, who out ran both MSU and MSC milers with a time of 4:15. Other areas of competition include debate, oratory, art and drama. Phi Delta Theta won the Newman Songfest.

QUARTET CONTEST

The second annual quartet contest was highly successful with songs in the women's division going to the chapters of Sigma Rho. For the second year in a row. Members included Fay Gentry, Carol Mahley, and Clark and Martha McGinnis. In the men's division the Tau Tau of ATO captured the trophy. Members in the Bayside are John Mann, Doug Manning, Fred Thibault, and Roger Larson.

ASMSU OFFICERS

Planning along chapters and central board officers commenced work immediately under the presidency of Ed Whelan. Dave Anderson, Dan Robinson, and James Brown. Central Board and the Bayside present with among the groups of faculty committees commencing results with a convention at which President Newman discussed the problem and ASMSU's future.

BLOOD DRIVE

Bonnie Jo Robbins and Jim Weiler donate blood at the three day blood drive. The drive was under the sponsorship of Sigma Kappa sorority.

AQUAMAID PAGEANT

"Broadway Showtime" as the title of the Aquamaid Pageant. "Steamy heat" from "Pajama Game" was performed by Stevie Johnson, Sara Black Burn, Faith Schwertfeger, Kitty Van Vliet and Judy Thomas.

Spring quarter calls for boating, swimming and Greek weekends. The lakes around Missoula (Sawley and Flathead) make ideal locations.

Outstanding Students

DEPARTMENTS HONOR OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

While serving as associate editor on the yearbook staff and reviewing other yearbooks I have found that there is a lack of recognition to outstanding students. A University must build its athletic stars, have its queens, but its prime objective is to build scholars and advance higher education. With this idea in mind I decided, as editor, to incorporate a new section to give outstanding students and scholarship due recognition along with the fond memories of college which the Sentinel usually covers very thoroughly.

In an attempt to bring this recognition to outstanding students I asked the Department Heads to meet with their faculty members to pick the student whom they consider to be deserving of special honor in that department. Scholarship, leadership, and service are the three basic attributes considered by those selecting the students.

Credit must be shared with Cyrile Van Duser, Sentinel Advisor, for her encouragement and help, and to the "Yucca", No. Texas State College yearbook, for the idea of how to present such a section as this. My thanks to the faculty for their contributions.

MSU RESEARCH GRANTS

One major function of a University is to do research in any number of fields and MSU is no exception. Listed below are the Research Grants which are in effect June 30, 1962. When one considers that the University received $170,000 for science institutes alone, a considerable amount of money is involved and the importance of research is indicated.

Sharon Core demonstrates her new hearing aid which now enables her to hear. The smile is due to the $1,500 grant to the MSU Speech and hearing clinic by the Hellgate Elks Lodge. Pictured with Sharon are John Heinrich (Hellgate Elks Lodge), Donald O'Dell (doing the research for the clinic) and President Newburn.

MacLEISH'S "J.B."

MacLeish's Pulitzer Prize winning play, J. B., directed by Daniel Witt of the Speech department was a combined project of the speech and drama departments. The contemporary play draws a parallel between a modern, successful businessman, J. B., and the Biblical character, Job. J. B.'s search, like Job's, was for the meaning of his afflictions. No scenery or costumes were used; the characters performed their parts as a reading with musical background.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was chartered on February 13, 1927. Although proud of their reputation on campus as "the singing fraternity," the Sig Alps did not confine themselves to serenading sorority houses. Delta Theta of Delta Sigma Phi was founded on the MSU campus in 1904. Although small it is growing steadily and is active in campus activities. This year six Delta Sigs worked on the Sentinel including Jim Weiler as editor. The 1963 Sentinel will be edited by Jake Nelson. Socially, DSP along with the usual coffee hours and informal gatherings, had a Barn Dance, chose Diane Barlow as Delta Sigma Playmate, crowned Sue Gantenbein at the Carnation Ball, and held the Sailors Ball at Flathead Lake spring quarter.

Graduating this year is Jim Taylor, a member of Zeta Psi fraternity who has lived with the Delta Sigs for three years. Jim has helped and advised us, a young house, with building traditions and what a fraternity should stand for. The Delta Sigs all express a word of thanks to Jim Taylor, our stray greek.

Thank You . . .

Another school year has passed and once again we of the Sentinel Staff have endeavored to record this wonderful year in our college careers.

As with any project of this nature, the yearbook could not have been completed without many hours of work on the part of a great many people who gave of their time to complete it. Thanks are in order to Mr. Crowder for his advice; Cyrile Van Duser for advice, photo work, and for being a good listener; and many thanks to my capable staff. And, out of necessity apologies are in order also to those students whose names we have misspelled, who have wrong identifications, and for numerous unavoidable errors and mistakes.

My thanks to Robert Catlin for taking the class photos; and especially the pictures of the Royalty, the President and for having patience with myself and my staff.

For the two pictures of the grizzly bears, my thanks to Frank and John Craighead, Jr.

Colored pictures in the Sentinel are due to Cyrile, Ling Mark, Tim Richmond, Dale Graff, Ted Dickson, Doug Grim, and Jim Taylor.

Thanks are in order for many others who helped complete the book and if I fail to mention them here, forgive me. A special thanks to Joe Holly, for the major part of the photography printing, Sharon Blaszek, Cathy Van Aelstyn, and members of Delta Sigma Phi.

And finally—thanks to Yearbook House, of Kansas City, publishers of the 1962 Sentinel, for their help, advice, and patience to make the Sentinel a top notch yearbook and a memorial memory.

Sincerely,

Jim Weiler
Editor 1962
